Background

Connect to Work is a new UK government programme aimed at helping people overcome barriers to employment, particularly those with disabilities, health conditions and complex needs.

The programme is based on a supported employment model, taking a 'place, train and maintain' approach, which is shown to be the most effective way of supporting people into work. Our team will be working with individuals to connect them with roles and employers that meet their aspirations and support needs.

Job Purpose

You will join a team of Connect to Work Employment Specialists delivering individualised, tailored support to help people with complex needs into employment, in line with the principles of Supported Employment.

- Work intensively with participants, using a vocational profiling process to identify skills, abilities, goals, barriers and needs, and providing coaching support to help clients progress towards their employment goals.

- Help participants create an up-to-date CV and prepare for interview.
- Work with key individuals involved in the participant's support including family members, mental health workers etc, to consider all aspects of their transition to employment and to ensure that appropriate support is in place.
- Source job opportunities through rapid tailored job search and regular contact with employers, negotiating opportunities that meet participants' strengths, needs, abilities and preferences.

Employment phase:

- Work with the participant and employer to ensure appropriate support and resources are in place in the workplace, helping to identify and source any resources or assistive technologies needed.
- Help employers think flexibly about job design and about any reasonable adjustments that could be made to ensure the role or working environment aligns with the participants' needs and skillset.
- Support the participant through the onboarding process, ensuring they understand their role, expectations, and company culture, and that they have access to appropriate training.
- Where appropriate, provide hands-on support and guidance to help participants apply skills learned in training and manage tasks effectively, using systematic task instruction as required.
